BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS. FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1952

VOL. 61 — NO. 6

Observations...

By UDELL

Great Britain and its possessions were saddened Wednesday when news of the death of their beloved King George VI was announced. Americans, too, were saddened at the death of this great monarch, who, with his outstanding family, won his way into the hearts of our citizens...

That broad smile beaming on the face of Rev. Charles R. Johnson can be attributed to the arrival of the Johnson family's pride and joy, Harriett Helen, last week. Our congratulations are extended to the proud parents...

It is Thursday night, the local Boy Scouts of America and mothers of Bay St. Louis did their part in helping make a success of the 1952 March of Dimes drive for Hancock County. They fully realize the importance of assisting this worthy cause which provides so much comfort and medical care to the victims of one of the worst diseases ever to strike mankind. It is not too late to make your donation to help some child which might be one of yours—or adult, maybe yourself, to get the best medical care in this field available.

It seems that a lot of local residents have lost the use of their sight or else they just haven't gone to school long enough to know what the words NO DUMPING mean. Disregard for another man's property is one of the most unbearable crimes a person can commit against his neighbor. When NO DUMPING signs are posted on property that is not occupied, they certainly must be there for a definite purpose. The City has garbage collections to get rid of all trash, but some of our more negligent citizens must forget to get their debris ready for collections and, as a result, must throw this refuse in front of homes right on the streets or on empty lots... There should be a strict enforcement of the law against such public offenders as our careless citizens who haven't enough pride to care about their City...

A local resident was arrested last week in Picayune for hauling "boozie" to a customer in Columbia, Miss. He will be tried next week on charges of illegal possession of liquor. A pretty big "stiff" must be putting up this "Moonshine" as the Negro was hauling approximately 153 gallons across the County line when apprehended...

Work in the Bay of St. Louis on the new bridge has started. The firm is putting in piling and installing a coffer dam. Won't be long before we will see bits of the new span going up. Better hurry up because "old Father Time" is going to call the score on our present connection between Hancock and Harrison counties. Each day the ride gets a little tougher... Oh well, Brother John is just paving the battered old structure with the hard-earned money of struggling tax-payers...

A style show featuring the latest in spring fashions will be given at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Friday, February 15, at 8:00 p.m. by members of the Club's Auxiliary. Our local glamour girls will act as models.

WMS Has Family Prayer Program

"Prayer" was the subject of the program presented at the meeting of the Women's Misionary Society of the First Baptist church Tuesday night.

Mrs. James Fillingame was in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Alice Wahl who gave the devotional and Mrs. M. J. Nease and son, Gregory, and Mrs. G. H. Patterson and daughter, Patricia, who presented a playlet on family prayer. The scene was set at the family table with the members reading from the Bible.

Mrs. M. H. Hill and Mrs. Kenneth Whittfield related testimonies of missionaries as to the many ways prayer helped them in their work. The closing part of the program was given by Mrs. Schuyler M. Eaton.

Plans were made for other activities for February; the events will include a Valentine social and entertainment for the veterans of Gulfport.

Twenty members were present at this meeting.

Can You Point With Pride?

In March, the annual Spring Pilgrimage of the Gulf Coast Garden Clubs will be held and Bay St. Louis will be included in the itinerary. Three days prior to the Pilgrimage, the National Council of Garden Clubs will meet in Biloxi.

People going to and from the meeting will pass through Bay St. Louis at one time or another and those making the pilgrimage will spend some time here in our little City; so, we should make every attempt to have it as attractive as possible.

Our City Fathers will proclaim the first week in March City Clean-Up Week, but unless everyone cooperates, it will be just another week in the year.

Pride in one's appearance should also be exemplified in one's surroundings; but, one look around Bay St. Louis and visitors will think that its citizens are without pride, either personal or civic.

When you have guests in your home, don't you try to make everything as pleasant and as attractive as possible so that they can always remember their stay? Well, visitors to Bay St. Louis should be given the same impression to give them something to remember when they return to their home towns and tell friends of their travels. We should try to make Bay St. Louis the first stop they will remember.

The New Year is well underway, but it is not too late to make one more resolution—resolve to take an interest in the beautification of your City and back your City officials in keeping Bay St. Louis clean, not only in March, but in each of the other eleven months of the year.

Let's all join hands in this project; then, we can point with civic pride and say "I live in Bay St. Louis."

Methodists Plan

A State Mission

The Methodist Churches of Mississippi are preparing for a great simultaneous Mission on Evangelism throughout the state during the month of March (from March 1 to 9 in the Mississippi Conference and March 22 to 30 in the North Mississippi Conference). This plan involves bringing about 700 visiting pastors from surrounding states to assist the 400 Mississippi ministers in visitation and preaching Evangelism crusades over 110 Methodist churches. The Evangelistic Mission will be climax ed on Sunday, March 9, in the Mississippi Conference when seven mass meetings will be held simultaneously throughout the conference. The North Mississippi climax will come on Sunday, March 30, with a mass meeting in each of the six districts.

Another highlight will be fourteen Youth Rallies to be carried out on Saturday evenings, March 1 and March 22, in strategic centers over the state. An attendance of 12,000 youths and sponsors is expected.

A third feature of the crusade will be fourteen schools of evangelism for pastors, under the leadership of outstanding ministers from many parts of the nation. In the schools the pastors will be trained in the new techniques for visitation evangelism, pulpit evangelism and membership assimilation.

The executive director of the movement is the Rev. Dr. L. G. Jacobs of Nashville, Tenn., an associate secretary of the General Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church. The Mississippi United Evangelistic Mission is one of several comparable programs being sponsored by the Methodist Church throughout the nation. The purpose is to create new interest among inactive members and go out to win new persons for the Christian way of life. The visitation program will utilize great numbers of laymen in the calling.

The dance given for the March of Dimes was a financial success and all who attended spent an enjoyable evening.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Curtis Ladner, Albert Heitzman Sr. and Nolan Kington of Bay St. Louis, C. Milam of Waveland and New Orleans, Kenny Rae Ladner of Bayou LaCroix, Johnny Nease, Lulu Garcia, Ed Green, Jerry Carco and Dennis Garcia of Lakeshore.

Cakes were donated by Albert Heitzman Sr., Bobby Anne Bakery, Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green and Mrs. Milton Stoufflet and country butter by Mrs. Harry Thomas.

A full financial report and list of all who donated to this worthy cause will be in next week's column.

Kenny Fucich is now employed by the Phillips Petroleum Co. testing in the Mississippi Sound.

State Buildings In Best Shape In History

A gigantic and comprehensive program to provide adequate facilities for Mississippi's administrative, educational, health and agricultural departments has been underway the past five years. Today these state-owned facilities are in the best condition in Mississippi history.

Scores of new buildings have been erected throughout the state to care for growing needs, and repairs and expansions have been made to existing facilities to modernize and make them more serviceable in carrying out the state's administrative, agricultural, educational and health programs.

Pictured here are only a few of the typical new structures which have been constructed and supervised under the State Building Commission since 1946. They will give you an idea of the immense and excellent progress which is being made.

Army Announces Rebuilding Plan

Headquarters Third Army, Ft. McPherson, Ga.—The Third Army today announced a rebuilding program for the Organized Reserve Corps which is expected to substantially increase the operational effectiveness of the Army's Reserve Forces. This rebuilding program is based upon the lessons learned during the Korean mobilization and the long range needs of the Army to have forces available to meet any kind of mobilization at any future time.

Their building program has one main objective: to form a more realistic Organized Reserve Corps which can effectively train individual soldiers and units, and at the same time, be ready for early deployment in case of national or limited emergency. The program is concerned solely with the organization structure of the Reserve Forces. Availability of individual Reserve Officers and enlisted personnel for active duty, at the present time, is not altered directly by the program. This program will provide the means for training and opportunities to receive Reserve duty training pay for those individual Reservists who are returning to civilian life but have a further obligation, under the Selective Act, to serve in the Armed Forces, as well as those members of the Volunteer Reserve.

Within the active Reserve, all troop program units will be designated either "fully organized" or less than fully organized." Those units which are designated fully organized will be authorized a strength of 100% officers, plus one additional lieutenant for each company size unit, and 110% of enlisted strength. Units of this type will receive 48 paid drills per year, 6 paid weeks end training periods, and 15 days mandatory summer field training. Those units which are designated less than fully organized will be authorized a strength of 100% officers, a non-commissioned officer cadre, plus 5% of full enlisted strength. Based upon the overall mobilization requirements of the Army, the Third Army Command will designate those units which are to be fully organized, or less than fully organized. When a unit is designated fully organized, it will be allowed to receive pay for drill attendance while building to full strength.

Those members of the Volunteer Reserve will retain the category of Volunteer Reserve, but will be assigned to Reinforcement Training Units, School Student Detachments, or members of US Army Reserve Schools, or US Army Reserve Reinforcement Control Groups.

Members of this category, if able to participate in training, will be eligible to participate in 24 drills for pay per year, and will receive 18 days mandatory summer field training. Members of this category who are unable to participate in reserve duty training, will be allowed to receive point credits toward retirement through Army correspondence courses, a n.d. schools.

The program has been under study for several months by top manpower experts of the Army and the Organized Reserve Corps. The general plan involves the re-building of divisions and units within those divisions to meet new and exacting standards of Reserve preparedness.

All Organized Reserve Corps divisions will be Infantry divisions under the new program. Armored and Airborne Divisions will no longer be designated in the Organized Reserve Corps because experience has proven that specialized training equipment and personnel cannot be adequately supported in a Reserve program.

The Third Army divisions will be located as follows:

CADRE DIVISIONS: 8th Infantry Division, Headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia, with units located in Georgia and Tennessee. 8th Infantry Division, Headquarters in Birmingham, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida. 108th Infantry Division, Headquarters in Charlotte, North Carolina, with units located in North Carolina and South Carolina.

Within the active Reserve, all troop program units will be designated either "fully organized" or less than fully organized." Those units which are designated fully organized will be authorized a strength of 100% officers, plus one additional lieutenant for each company size unit, and 110% of enlisted strength. Units of this type will receive 48 paid drills per year, 6 paid weeks end training periods, and 15 days mandatory summer field training. Those units which are designated less than fully organized will be authorized a strength of 100% officers, a non-commissioned officer cadre, plus 5% of full enlisted strength. HOME AGENT'S NOTES Prepare For Your Family's Safety

By MISS MADGE ALRED

Several weeks ago, you read the article with reference to the disposal of your property.

LEGAL TERMS USED IN DRAWING UP A WILL

A testator is a person who makes a will.

A person who dies intestate is one who dies without having a will.

Real property is land or real estate including the buildings on the land.

Personal property refers to everything a person owns except his real estate.

A person named in a will to settle an estate is an executor. A man is called an administrator and a woman an administratrix.

There are three types of wills:

1. Those drawn up by an attorney and signed by two or three disinterested witnesses.

2. Holographic wills, or a will that has been written in longhand by the person making the will.

This type does not require legal assistance so far as form is concerned. No witnesses are required and no technical or legal words are necessary.

3. Oral or unwritten wills, known as noncupative wills.

Holographic wills. Only about 21 out of the 48 states recognize the holographic will. To be exact, written wills are valid in 19 of the 48 states, and two other states recognize them under certain provisions. This type will is valid in Mississippi.

They are valid in New York for military personnel and marines at sea only. In Connecticut they are not valid if made in that state. Both Alaska and Puerto Rico recognize the holographic type of will.

Of the states bordering Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Tennessee recognize the holographic will. The holographic will is not legal in Alabama.

It is important to know the law with reference to this type of will in whatever state you live or own property. That is the only way to be safe in this matter of making a will.

Nuncupative or Oral Will. The nuncupative, unwritten, or oral will applies mostly to people in actual military service. However, in Mississippi such wills are valid provided they are made during a person's last illness.

The value of property bequeathed by an oral will cannot exceed $100, unless it can be proved by two witnesses that the testator was making his or her will. In this overcrowding again, all club members are urged to make early reservations.

The advice of those who know is "never give this type of will a second thought." Instead, write, or have drawn up for you, a will that says exactly what your wishes are.

County Agent's Notes

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Outlook. The prices for milk and cream probably will average somewhat higher than in 1951. However, higher cost of dairy feed, supplies and labor will partly offset the increase in cash receipts.

Prospects are for increased income from dairying in 1952 provided the farmer produces normal supplies of home-grown feeds.

Recommendations. Due to the high cost of feed, supplies and labor farmers should feed cows according to milk production; cull out all unprofitable producers in the herd; make a special effort to produce and use home-grown feed of high quality, with special emphasis on pastures, hay and silage; take advantage of the best breeding services available in order to be assured of high producing replacements.

Farmers are reminded that the public is especially quality conscious now and that processing plants cannot deliver quality products unless he is sold quality milk.

LIVESTOCK PARASITE CONTROL

Cattle Grubs weaken animals; reduce the gain in weight, damage hides by cutting holes in back, and damage the choicest cuts of beef on animals being finished for slaughter.

Control. Rub one and one-fourth percent rotenone dust in holes cut by grubs. Sprinkle the dust from a fruit jar with 16 to 12 holes punched in top. On thick coated range animals, use a stronger dust, one and two-thirds percent will be more effective.

Spray. Where spray equipment is available with at least 400 to 500 pounds of pressure, spray with seven and a half pounds of five percent rotenone to 100 gallons of water. Hold the spray nozzle eight to 10 inches from back of animal.

Cattle Lice. Do their damage during the winter. They retard growth of calves, reduce gain on fattening animals and heavy infested animals develop rough unthrifty appearance.

Control. By spraying DDT, Chlordane, toxaphene or Gamma Benzene hexachloride. See county agent for a copy of "Control Livestock Insects" Extension Leaflet 90, for specific control recommendations.

Caution. Calves under six months old should not be sprayed with excessive amounts of these materials. After spraying young calves, do not confine them to close quarters for several hours.

HOGS

Save More Pigs Per Litter. The baby pigs of a hog producer are the same as the cotton to a cotton farmer. More pigs per litter equals higher production to the acre.

Follow the 15 rules to have more live pigs to the litter. 1. Good sanitation to combat worm infestation and fifth-borne diseases. You must have clean sows, clean farrowing pens and clean yards and pastures. 2. Make maximum use of green pastures for breed sows and gilts during pregnancy and suckling period. 3. If green pastures are not available, see that the sow's ration contains at least 10 to 15 percent high-quality alfalfa meal, or ground green, leafy legume hay. 4. Include oats, wheat middlings or similar

by

W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

An old man drawing old age assistance, after stating in a letter that he has been sick for the last few years, that his wife died a few years ago, that he has no children, owns no property and has no income, closes his letter with the statement, "God bless our land, the good old sweet America." This letter is very much unlike, of course, many letters we receive from applicants for help who have good homes and sturdy sons and daughters able to help take care of them.

Since the amount of money is limited, when anyone is given old age assistance who can get along without it, there is just that much less to give old people who would actually suffer for the necessities of life without assistance and who thank God for "good old sweet America."

757 old people received December checks ranging from five to thirty dollars.

feeds along with corn and protein supplement in the gestation lactation periods of gilts and sows.

5. Use an efficient protein supplement, part of which is of animal origin. Feed at least a half-pound of supplement a day. 6. Always give bred or lactating sows and young pigs free access of salt. 7. Give sows and pigs free access to a good mineral mixture of supplemental minerals, especially calcium, phosphorus and salt if not provided for otherwise.

8. Avoid abrupt changes in sows' ration just before farrowing. 9. Do not overfeed sows just before farrowing. 10. Provide clean, dry and warm farrowing pens and houses; and use guard rails to reduce losses from sows overlaying pigs.

11. Ear-mark pigs for identification and keep record on sow. 12. Feed suckling pigs additional feed to get them off to a good start. 13. Keep sows gilts and pigs free from external and internal parasites. 14. Boars and gilts should be at least eight months old before breeding. 15. Use caution when buying new stock. Don't haul a disease back to your farm.

Control. by spraying DDT, Chlordane, toxaphene or Gamma Benzene hexachloride. See county agent for a copy of "Control Livestock Insects" Extension Leaflet 90, for specific control recommendations.

Caution. Calves under six months old should not be sprayed with excessive amounts of these materials. After spraying young calves, do not confine them to close quarters for several hours.

THE TRUMAN BUDGET

Last week we dealt with the President's budget, the necessity for trimming it, and the possibilities of this being done. We also pointed out the fact that it was the largest "peace time" budget in all history. We emphasized that notwithstanding the new tax bill enacted last year, upping the burden of taxes, we were faced with better than an eight billion dollar deficit this year and approximately a fourteen and one-half billion dollar deficit next year.

Now the U. S. NEWS, one of the most factual publications in the nation's capital, has one out

PASS CHRISTIAN NEWS Waters-Brown Nuptials Celebrated

by MRS. JOE ALLEN

The Trinity Episcopal Church and upon the altar were white roses interspersed with white snapdragons. Southern smilax with snapdragon arrangements covered the communion rail. Large cathedral candleabra, holding 40 white tapers each, were on either side of the chancel entrance. Candle sticks, covered from the base to holder with white camellias were effectively used, and on the organ was an arrangement of white tulips, roses and snapdragons.

The ceremony was performed at 6:00 p.m. by Rev. Dr. Willis Gaynor Clark, rector, who was assisted by Rev. Canon Robert Augustus Armstrong of Toronto, Canada, who is an uncle to the bridegroom. Only immediate members of the two families attended the wedding ceremony.

Southern smilax was used in profusion throughout the church.

They wore apricot color satin slippers and champagne color tulie headpieces and carried sprays of Lester Hibbert roses with variegated Pergeroma. The little flower girl was the bride's cousin, Mary Wyndham McCall.

Mrs. Waters had as his best man brother Arthur Carroll Waters Jr., and as groomsmen Benjamin Temple Brown Jr., brother of the bride, John Francis Clark III, Oliver B. Miles, Samuel Gilmore Robinson, T. James McMahon and John Matson Ellis.

The wedding was followed by a reception at "Belvedere," the Pass Christian home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. The reception rooms of the Browns' home were profusely decorated with white flowers and evergreens. The balustrade of the stairway entrance hall was twined with ropings of huckleberry greens and from the newel post fell a cascade of white camellias. White roses, white camellias, snapdragons and smilax were used throughout the house. The bride's table was covered with a Pointe de Venise cloth and the wedding cake was topped with lilies of the valley and surrounded by white gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Waters left later in the evening for a trip to Aspen, Colorado, and upon their return will make their home at 5435 Coliseum Street in New Orleans.

For More and Better Telephone Service

Cable splices at work down in a manhole, or on a platform over the street. That's a familiar sight these days as new cables—a necessary part of any extensive telephone expansion and improvement program—are placed and made ready for service.

By adding new cables, building lines and installing central office equipment and thousands of new telephones, Southern Bell has made telephone service more useful and valuable for all Mississippians.

In 1946 we had about 115 thousand telephones in Mississippi. Now Mississippians can call almost 235 thousand other telephones in the state, and use nearly twice as many long distance circuits. The cost of this expansion and improvement of service totaled more than 57 million dollars.

Mississippi's growth and prosperity and the needs of National Defense require continuing expansion of telephone service. That makes it important to have a financially sound telephone company—a company capable of meeting today's higher costs and earning enough to attract the capital required to do the job.

Legislative Views

By WALTER JAMES PHILLIPS

After three weeks of preparation, the Legislature finally got down to the actual work of formulating and passing laws. Committee assignments having been made, the Committees began the work of getting the bills out of Committee rooms and on to the floor of the House for action.

The subject of the address was "The Woman's Work in the Auxiliary."

At the close of the meeting, an informal tea was served.

While here, Mrs. Montgomery was the guest of Mrs. Harold B. Weston and Mrs. Sam Whitfield.

Altar Guild Meets

The Altar Guild of Christ church met at the Parish House Wednesday morning, February 6, for their regular monthly meeting and election of officers for 1952.

Mrs. L. T. Boyd was elected president; Mrs. Earl P. Kirkpatrick, vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Watts, secretary; and Mrs. Russell Rollins, treasurer.

Have King's Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Blanchard was the scene of a King's party Friday night, February 1.

Anne Blanchard was queen, and Timmy Schafer king.

Joe Delph drew the bean from the King's cake.

Have Cocktail Party

Mrs. E. M. Brignac and Mrs. Thomas Schafer entertained at a cocktail party at the Brignac home Thursday, January 31, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The table was centered with a silver container of pink camellias with silver candelabra holding pink tapers on either side.

Approximately 90 guests called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Max Kohler attended the wedding of Miss Barbara Cohen in New Orleans Sunday.

Senator Howard McDonnell, of Biloxi, introduced a bill in the Senate, providing for a local option type of liquor law, which would give each County the right to determine whether they should be wet or dry, and would set up a Local County Intoxicating Beverage Board. This has been introduced in the Senate, and as yet, your Representative has not given a careful study to this bill, but will do so, should it appear before the House of Representatives.

Several bills were passed last week affecting the time of holding elections in Cities with Special Charters. These bills merely provide that the time of election shall be the time specified in such Charters and that the primaries will be held a certain designated time before the general election, as provided for such charters.

A real flood of bills is expected to come out of Committees during the week of February 4. Included among them are some bills of controversial matter. Among these are bills which provide for various methods of obtaining a State Police Force to enforce the general laws of the State, throughout the entire State. Whereas, there are some good points involved, your Representative is reserving judgment until he can study the bills as they appear on the floor. However, as a general principal, your Representative is opposed to any centralized State Police assistance under the views of any one individual, unless such views are very strictly limited, and every precaution is included to prevent this police force from becoming in the nature of a secret police force, as has been evidenced in many European Countries.
